Whole Body Raw with Eczema-Life was Intolerable-Was Even Incased in Plaster-Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless.

SUFFERED 14 YEARS CURED BY CUTICURA

"From the age of three months until afteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. He was 'all 'light until a red rash broke out on his forehead, but we were not alarmed at first. Very soon, however, the rash began to appreciate the caused him great discomfort. I took him to a doctor and tried half a dozen other treatments, all with the same result: no improvement at all. The disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. We had to strap him down in bed, for he used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep. The agony he went through is quite beyond-words. No one thought we would rear him. The regimental doctor, a very clever man, pronounced the case hopeless; at least, he said tho only hope was that he might, if he lived long enough, outgrow it to some extent. We had him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases, if not the worst, ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable; in fat he got worse under the successive treatments. At one hospital they incased him in plaster, and this seemed to aggravate the soreness terribly. He looked so badly that no one liked to go near him and his life was a burden to him. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but we had got almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cutioura Soao, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills and persevered with thom. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured, his skiir not having a blemish on it anywhere. Mrs. Lily Hedge, 51, Vaughan Road, Coldharbour Lane, Camblewell Green, Inn. 12, 1907."

The refusal of the hotel authorities during the afternoon to give particulars concerning the death of the duke led to reports that there was some mystery surrounding it, but these were completely dissipated by M. Jeanton, a police physician, who made an examination of the body in the presence of other physicians, and officially certified that death was due to a natural cause, and that there was no necessity for an autopsy.

To-night the body of the duke was placed in a double oak coffin, and tomorrow it will be transferred to a crypt in the Church of St. Philippe du Rol, where it will remain pending arrangements for the funeral, which it is expected will not take place until after the arrival of Mr. Shonts from New York.

In accordance with the traditions of French robility, the funeral will be a pretentious function, and will attract to Paris the representatives of the most ancient families in France with which the duke's family is alled.
